

Emanuel Bergmann

Tahara

Published by Diogenes as Tahara

Original title: Tahara

Emanuel
Bergmann
Tahara

Roman · Diogenes

General Fiction

288 pages

11.6 x 18.4 x 2.2 cm

March 2024

Contact:

Susanne Bauknecht, Rights Director, susanne.bauknecht@diogenes.ch and Suzanne Héglé, Film Rights Manager,
suzanne.hegele@diogenes.ch

Award

2019 Der Trick war auf der Longlist des ›International Dublin Literary Award‹

Praise

Tahara

»Moving, with lots of tempo, also the surprising twist at the end of the book fits impeccably.« – Münchner Merkur, Munich

»Bergmann tells of a crazy love, so fast that it makes me almost breathless while reading.« –
Petra Schulte / Emotion, Hamburg

On his first morning at the Cannes film festival, movie critic Marcel Klein is starstruck – not by an actor, but by Héloïse, a beautiful woman with a troubling secret. Each time they meet – at press events, parties and premieres – they test each other's limits. But when Marcel's countless lies threaten to catch up with him, the two of them get in a car and leave Cannes behind, hoping to outrun the past. A deeply moving and fast-paced novel about love and lies.

Photo: Jostl Humm / © Dogenes Verlag

Emanuel Bergmann, born in Saarbrücken in 1972, moved to Los Angeles to study film and journalism after his high school graduation. He has worked for various movie studios, production companies and media in Germany and the USA. His literary debut The Trick has been published in 18 languages. Emanuel Bergmann lives near Frankfurt with his wife and two children.

The Trick
400 pages
2016

🏆 Award winner

📈 Bestseller